

BFA Communications Policy

Publications, Web Sites, Email, Social Media and member data sites operated by the BFA and its various divisions and activities are there for the members of the BFA and the promotion of the BFA and its mission. Posts on BFA sites should reflect the proper decorum and respect that meets the values of the BFA and its membership. The BFA reserves the rights to remove or modify any posting or response that falls outside of these guidelines. Advertising, self-promotion, political content, and negative comments are inappropriate. Any photos of recognizable youth must have parental approval.

Approved 2/23/2021